"I was inspired by the Bolzano table lamp's sculptural feel and its unusual bronze metal work," explains Mitchell, who splits his time between New York and Nova Scotia. "Vaughan's own Keros embroidered linen is a wonderful complement, with a contemporary organic pattern inspired by rusticated stone [that] seemed to echo the character of the lamp's texture. The addition of two simple trims to the top and bottom of the shade add to the touched-by-hand and bespoke quality of these combined elements, resulting in a piece that feels both contemporary and traditional at the same time."
